There is not such great incongruity between a fashionable tea and a supper at the Young Women's Christian association, and still a description of those pleasant affairs would count better if given straight and not mixed. To be sure it was an unfortunate as if the mixture had been made up of a prize fight and the Young Women's Christian association or a fashionable tea and a report of police court matters, but it may be well to remark that something happened to the account of both Mrs. McGowan's tea and the Young Women's Christian association supper, or that they became inextricably entangled in yesterday's paper. The Young Women's Christian association supper, the success of which was largely due to the able direction of Miss Emeline Richmond, netted the association about $50. It is to be hoped that the organization will not be satisfied with this result as to omit the annual dinner which has become such a feature in our city.

The art exhibition announced to be given under the auspices of the ladies of the Penn Avenue Baptist church has been postponed until January owing to the impossibility of securing the drawings. It is to be hoped that this unique entertainment will be secured as promised for it will certainly be one to attract much attention.

SLASHED WITH A RAZOR.
Watchman on Scranton Street Attacked by a Colored Man.
 Timothy O'Connell, a night watchman employed at a foundry on Seventh street, was attacked by a colored man late on Tuesday night and in the scuffle that ensued O'Connell was slashed in the body with a razor in the hands of the colored man.

O'Connell claims that the attack was without the slightest provocation. The colored man made for him and the watchman thrust his assistant to the ground. He did not discover the wound on his body until some time afterward when the blood had soaked his shirt. O'Connell went at once to the Lackawanna hospital where his injuries were treated. The police are looking for the colored man.

DESPERATE MARY JOSEN
Made an Effort to Kill Herself in the Police Station—Will Be Taken to Hillside Home.

Mary Josen, the young woman who was adjudged to be insane by the poor board physicians, Tuesday, made an attempt to cut her throat with a table knife in the police station yesterday. She was prevented by the quick action of Patrolman John Hawkins.

The woman was to have been sent to Hillside Home yesterday, but her departure was delayed until today. During her imprisonment she went most of the time and at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon she had become desperate from constant grieving.

Patrolman Hawkins, acting desk sergeant, heard a peculiar noise and upon going to the cell where the woman was imprisoned saw her with a table knife in her hand. She was muttering to herself: "They shan't take me; I'll go back to Johnson's and stay there; they shan't kill myself!"

The policeman, taking in the situation at a glance, quickly reached through the iron bars and grasped the knife just as the woman crossed it against her throat.

The blade was dull and fortunately no wound was made. After a brief struggle the knife was secured.

The woman had evidently stolen the knife when she was given her dinner yesterday, with the intention of using it in the way which was frustrated.

EXCURSION WAS SUCCESSFUL.

 Charles Fiddis was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Haggerty and was placed in the station house on a charge of larceny. Fiddis entered the State house on Penn avenue yesterday afternoon and stole an overcoat, the property of W. E. Westcott, of Raymondville. He was captured in Fayetteville. Fiddis will be given a hearing this morning.

Took a Gold Watch.
 A young man, who refused to give his name, was arrested by Officer Dyer and Patrolman May on Penn avenue yesterday for the larceny of a gold watch from Henry Hastler's jewelry store on Penn avenue. He was lodged in the police station and will be given a hearing this morning.

CHARGE OF EXTORTION.
Alderman Kelly of the Eighteenth Ward Will Have to Answer it at Court.

Alderman John P. Kelly, of the Eighteenth ward, last night was held under $300 bail on a charge of extortion, preferred by John Martin. The bail was furnished.

Kelly was given a hearing at 7:30 o'clock. Alderman Howe called upon Martin, the prosecutor, to repeat the charges made in the information against Kelly.

Martin did so, stating that at a case before Alderman Kelley on the night of Sept. 11, he was compelled to pay $5.45 as costs. This sum is more than twice as much as the costs allowed to an alderman by law. Martin swore to this fact on oath.

Alderman Kelly, when Martin had concluded, brusquely said: "Alderman Kelley, I will hold you for court in the sum of $300." Kelley protested vigorously. He wanted to be heard, he could claim himself, he said. Alderman Howe drew his attention to the fact that a case can not be "tried" in an alderman's court. "The court is the place to do that," said Alderman Howe.

Alderman Kelley then attempted to have the case reopened. This privilege, also, was denied him. After the hearing Alderman Kelley to a Tribune reporter said: "I can explain every item of those costs."

 Every indication points to a rousing Republican victory for the entire ticket next Tuesday. The party's fighting blood is up at last and that portends a Waterloo for the enemy. But no individual Republican should relax his efforts. This is the chance of a life time to rivet and clinch Republican supremacy in once Democratic Lackawanna.

WRIGHT SHOT BY AN UNKNOWN MAN

Found the Intruder in the Toll House at Entrance to Boulevard.

BOTH USED THEIR REVOLVERS
Wright Was Shot in the Leg and Blood Stains on the Ground Indicate that the Unknown Was Also Injured—Left a Trail from the Little Building to the Woods—Police Are Trying to Find the Man Who Fired at Wright.

William Wright, a young man who collects toll at the entrance to the Elmhurst boulevard, appeared at police headquarters at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and exhibited a wound in his right leg. He said that while entering the toll house at a late hour Tuesday night he was shot at by an unknown man and the ball entered his leg.

Wright was taken to the Lackawanna hospital where the bullet, 38 calibre, was extracted from its lodging place under the cuticle on the side opposite to the calf of the leg where the ball entered.

Wright in his story to Chief of Police Robling said he was in the central city until 10:15 o'clock Tuesday night and upon reaching the toll house discovered the door open. He stepped partly into the little room when he heard in a commanding voice, "Hold up your hands!" and saw a dark object in a far corner.

Wright had his revolver ready for just such an emergency and fired one shot at the object. The burglar or tramp, which ever he was, returned the fire and Wright felt the sting of a bullet in his leg. In the confusion the man escaped. Wright claims that this happened at about 11 o'clock.

Why he did not seek immediate medical assistance or report the case to the police before six hours had passed Wright did not explain.

Chief Robling upon hearing the story dispatched Patrolmen McMullen and Feeney to the toll house. They found the interior of the house marked with blood stains; the furniture was all tumbled about and everything pointed to a struggle of some kind.

Mounted Officer Dyer also made an investigation yesterday afternoon and discovered what appeared to be blood stains on the road. The stains led to the woods but could not be traced further.

This creates the supposition that Wright's shot was effective, how much so cannot be stated. The police are trying to find Wright's assailant.
